Dear Members of the Orange County Board of Education,

It has come to the attention of Chapman University that Tomorrow's Leadership Collective (TLC) is misrepresenting the relationship with our fine higher education institution.

While Chapman University has long supported educational endeavors in the Orange community, Chapman University is not associated with the proposed charter school in any way, shape, or form. This includes, but not limited to a partnership, collaboration, community partner, or stakeholder. Anything stated in any TLC's documents referencing Chapman University, not limited to Charter Petition and appeal, is simply not true. Any statements of the contrary are false, misleading, and a gross misrepresentation.

Chapman's Dean of Attallah College of Educational Studies did submit a letter to the Orange Unified School District (OUSD) in October of 2017 and this letter does not serve as an official institutional endorsement from Chapman University.
